HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend it to all in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE [illegible]]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 15

Congressional

WASHINGTON, March [illegible] In the Senate the resolution giving a year's salary as a justice of the Supreme Court to Mrs Stanton passed.

Chandler from the Committee on Commerce reported adversely on the bill making Chicago and S[illegible] original ports of entry and the bill was indefinitely postponed.

Abbott introduced a bill providing for the distribution of arms to the Southern States in the same manner as if the act of April 1866 had not been modified; referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The Vice President presented a memorial from the Secretary of the Friends Society asking for an appropriation to aid in the civilization of the Indians in the northern superintendency of Nebraska; referred.

Sherman from the Committee on Finance reported back various propositions in regard to the increase of currency; referred.

Wilson introduced a bill to enable the Secretary of War to revise the general regulations for the government of the army.

Rice offered a resolution directing the Judiciary Committee to report whether the effect of the Fifteenth Amendment upon the Indians was not to make them citizens, and to annul the treaties between the United States and them; objected to as being premature, no official notice of the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment having yet been given. The resolution went over.

A concurrent resolution for the appointment of a joint committee on Indian affairs was taken up. Edmunds moved to amend so that the committee shall have but one subject to consider "The general policy of the Government in reference to Indian treaties." Drake favored the amendment. He said it was intimated that this proposition for a joint committee was in the interest of the Indian Ring. It was further discussed and finally Drake moved to table the whole subject. Harlan hoped a vote would be had to test the sense of the Senate on the resolution. The vote resulted in a tie, and was decided against the motion by the casting vote of the Vice President. The morning hour expired, when the subject was laid aside and the Georgia bill called up.

Stewart and Edmunds addressed the Senate on the state of affairs in Georgia. Drake offered an amendment, directing the President to furnish troops upon the representation of the Governor or the Legislature of any of the Southern States to suppress disorders in any portion of the State, the troops to subsist on the country and levy contributions on the inhabitants for their expenses.

The Senate went into executive session and then adjourned.

In the House, after the presentation of a number of unimportant petitions, the funding bill was called up by Schenck who moved its reference to the Committee on Ways and Means. Garfield moved to refer to the Committee on Banking and Currency. A discussion followed and the vote being taken resulted in the refusal of the House by ayes 65, noes 79 to refer the bill to the Banking and Currency Committee, and they then sent it to the Ways and Means Committee.

Benjamin addressed the House on the subject of various bills proposing to change the present method of paying pensions, and argued against their payment by postmaster and internal revenue collectors. The subject was then, on motion of Dawes, postponed two weeks; ayes 73, noes 62.

Butler, of Massachusetts, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill to admit Texas. He said it was identical with the Virginia and Mississippi bills, with the exception of one clause, and the passage of that will not affect the conditions upon which the State was originally admitted into the Union. The amendment by Wood that Texas shall be admitted with all the rights of other States, and the substitute by Beck simply admitting to representation, were rejected, and the bill passed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the deficiency bill. Several slight amendments were adopted and the Committee without action took a recess till evening.

At the evening session there was a long discussion on the appropriation for the New York postoffice, without definite action.

Dawes, in reply to an inquiry of Haight said that reconstruction has thus far cost $2,3[illegible]0,000. The appropriation of 47,000, he insisted, was for expenses of the several committees sitting during the recess. The committee rose, reported the bill to the House and then it adjourned.

Washington Matters in General

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Committee on Reconstruction to-day heard some colored men on Tennessee affairs. They will examine the presiding officers of the Legislature to-morrow.

The indications are that the Committee on Elections will report in favor of Stador, Democrat as entitled to the seat from the Cincinnati District.

The friends of Gov Bullock who say they have canvassed the Senate, express confidence that that body will disagree to the Bingham amendment to the Georgia bill.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations to-day decided to report against the ratification of the San Domingo treaty by a vote of 2 to 5.

A meeting of the friends of the Indians was held in the rooms of the Indian Commission to-day present, Secretary [illegible] the Interior Commissioner Parker Felix, Brunole and Vincent Colyer. A number of influential members of the society of Hixite Quakers were present, this being considered a crisis in Indian Affairs. The object of the meeting was the consultation on the situation with a view of procuring a continuance of peace and the civilization policy.

Governor Safford of Arizona left to-night for that Territory. During his visit here the Governor impressed the Government with the importance of affording additional facilities for the protection of life and property thus encouraging the development of the natural resources of Arizona.

The Senate to-day confirmed Charles H. Lewis of Virginia as Minister to Portugal; John Russell Jones, of Ill. as Minister to Stockholm; R. C. Kirke of Ohio, as Minister to Uruguay; J. C. Crowe of Alabama as Register of the Land Office at Wheeling and [illegible] F. Cartee as Surveyor General of Idaho. It is said the Senate has confirmed the nomination of George H. Butler as Consul General [illegible] Egypt [illegible] that nomination [illegible] or was made immediately thereafter which is still pending.

New York News

The suit from the Court of Oyer and Terminer against Cornelius Vanderbilt, as receiver of $3,[illegible]00,000 alleged to have been obtained by fraud and collusion, was before the Supreme Court to-day. Jay Gould testified that two checks of the amount of $969,000 were passed to Vanderbilt with the understanding that the suits against the company with which Vanderbilt subsequently claimed to have no connection should be discontinued.

The testimony in the prosecution of the Fuller [illegible] case closed to-day.

Affairs in Texas

MEMPHIS March 15. Parties just from Texas state that Supervisor Brigland in the past month has seized [illegible] illicit distilleries principally in the 4th District and arrested the Assessor and Deputy Collector of that district for collusion with the distilleries.

Since last October 5,000 emigrants passed through here seeking homes in the cotton States.

The Board of School visitors yesterday adopted the suggestion of Superintendent Lasth prohibiting the reading of the Bible and all other religious exercises in the schools.

BY THE CABLES

LONDON March 14.—Brougham the dramatist is dead.

Stephen Gladstone son of W. E. Gladstone was ordained at Lambeth to-day by the Bishop of Winchester.

In the House of Lords this evening Earl Granville said the Government would ask for further power to deal with the violators of the law in Ireland, and that a bill which contemplates severe regulations will soon be submitted. The Duke of Richmond promised to support such a measure but regretted the tardiness of its introduction. The Marquis of Salisbury said he should infer from the language of Lord Granville that his proposed bill would hardly be equal to the emergency.

In the House of Commons Otway Under Foreign Secretary explained the circumstances of the seizure of the American brig Mary Lowell in the West Indies, by a Spanish cruiser. He said no demand for indemnity could lie against a vessel that was captured on the high seas not within British waters.

Gladstone promised that the bill for the laws in Ireland would be introduced on Thursday of this week; that it would contain the provisions of several acts passed in former cases for the preservation of the public peace. It would empower the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland to suspend the habeas corpus, provided for summary trial without jury of certain offences created by the bill, such as the possession of powder, prowling by night, or traveling without a destination or purpose. It would compensate the victims of violence and increase the powers of the officers of justice for obtaining evidence. The bill was to remain in force for a limited time and could be applied only to districts in which the Lord Lieutenant had proclaimed the suspension of the habeas corpus. The press in the districts under the operation of the law, would be held answerable for offenses against order. This statement was received with uproarious applause from both sides. Gladstone said that this brief announcement was thought expedient to be made.

Fortesque, Chief Secretary for Ireland presented imperative reasons why the Government had, up to the present time, preferred to adhere to the letter of the law in dealing with Ireland rather than resort to another suspension of the habeas corpus act.

A lively debate followed on Irish affairs in general. Complaints were made of the frequency of political juries in Ireland and the Government indignantly repelled the charge of packing them.

The education bill was called up on [illegible] for second reading and a discussion followed.

The coinage bill was passed and the House adjourned.

LONDON March 15. The Times publishes a letter arguing strongly against the suggestion of Simpson city editor to try the experiment of reducing the rates of telegraphing through the English and French Atlantic cables for twenty words. It predicts that such a change would stop the issuing of per cent dividends hereafter and be likely to affect either of the cable companies.

The Pall Mall Gazette pays unusual attention to American affairs. It had editorials to-day on female suffrage on the political isolation of President Grant and on the sentence imposed on Capt. Eyre of the steamer Bombay the inadequacy of which is pointed out.

English journals almost unanimously denounce the present postal rates on newspapers and characterise it as an unjustifiable tax on knowledge. They demand that as the times are so easy the tax should be reduced or totally repealed.

Letters from Zanzibar mentions the prevalence of cholera.

Divers movements and expeditions have recently started to ascertain the whereabouts of Doctor Livingstone.

ROME March 15.—The party adverse to Papal pretentions is gathering strength daily.

PARIS March 15.—Dispatches from Rome confirm the report of a demand by France for representation in the Council. The publication of twenty one canons of the Church renders it inevitable that there will be a change in the attitude of France, as in the abstract they violate the principles of modern government and society and are hostile to the wishes expressed by the Emperor in his speech to the Chambers. Differences have arisen in the Cabinet on the position towards Rome. It is known that Count Daru is in favor of energetic measures to which Ollivier is opposed. Buffet is with Daru. The question is simply a Cabinet matter and may result in the withdrawal of Daru. The Journal announces that the Emperor has sent Prince Napoleon to consult with Ollivier and endeavor to bring the Ministers to one mind on the subject.

Marquis De Lavalette Minister to Great Britain has arrived.

A telegraphic dispatch from Algiers announces that Marshal McMahon Governor General of Algiers has tendered his resignation to the Emperor. The supposed cause is a recent discussion in the Corps Legislatif on the administration of Algiers.

The Gaulois independent organ states that a well attended caucus of the members of the left in the Corps Legislatif was held last evening at which it was decided to demand that questions relative to the budget shall hereafter be controlled by that body. The caucus also adopted a resolution offering to apply it in to the system of Executive creation of credits and granting money, making wars and proclaiming neutrality without authority of the Corps Legislatif.

LISBON March 15. Rio advices by the steamer say Lopez had retreated northward accompanied by a few followers who are making every effort to pass the frontier. [illegible] Count De Eu the allied commander had made a judicious disposition of his forces, and entertains strong hopes of capturing Lopez and his band before they can escape from Brazilian territory. The war is now practically over. The first division of the army of Brazil has returned to Rio Janeiro and been received by the citizens with the greatest enthusiasm.

Ostrander, Enoch Howell and Wm. Cyrus. The Convention instructed for M. V. Brown for State Printer. A resolution was passed that delegates be required to attend in person.

CURRENT NOTES

The [illegible] Government Gazette reports that in India there are [illegible] acres devoted to cotton culture showing an increase of thirty per cent during the year 1869.

The number of additions to the Methodist ministry last year was 655, yet the supply is said to be inadequate to the need. Bishop Simpson says that during the past year the Church has dedicated two churches per day or 700 altogether.

The Supreme Court on the 1st of March decided a point which has long been mooted, but never before legally determined. The point was brought up in several cotton cases and was, in brief: When did the war close? The Court fixed it as the [illegible] day of August that being the date of President Johnson's proclamation to that effect.

A mulatto member of the Virginia Legislature made a sensation the other day by [illegible] in debate, "Gentlemen, I have some of the best white blood in Virginia coursing in my veins. On one side I can claim as high and honorable [illegible] as any Senator in the chamber. Gentlemen, I am your brother. I am also the colored man's brother. I represent both [illegible] I am an Anglo-Saxon and an Anglo-African, and I desire to do justice to my kin on both sides.

The South Carolina Legislature has ordered that the school books of that State shall be changed. While the discussion [illegible] in this order was being had, many extracts were read from the books of which the following is one. Question—Who was Abraham Lincoln? Answer—A Republican who was elected by [illegible] people, and who issued a proclamation emancipating the negroes, knowing at the time he did it he was doing wrong.

The New York Herald has the following relative to the joke which was played on the Democrats in the House lately: "A resolution taken verbatim from the National Democratic Platform of July, 1868, was [illegible] by a Republican delegate favoring such a tariff as would incidentally protect domestic manufacture without impairing the revenue or burdening the people, and was adopted by a vote of 188 to 11. But none of the Democrats saw the trick or [illegible] handed the joke until they had voted against it. Mr Kelsey declared it was all [illegible], and even Mr Wood, who ought to have [illegible] wide awake, moved to lay it on the table.

Mr Dawes made several [illegible] during the late campaign in New Hampshire. In one of these he made the following [illegible]: "I was charged, yesterday [illegible] by the President himself, with this [illegible] to the people of New Hampshire when I told him that I was coming here. He told me to say to the people of New Hampshire that this administration I have made [illegible] the successful collection, and the economical expenditure of money during the present year, is an earnest and a pledge of what it shall be in the year to come. Tell the people of New Hampshire that during my administration there shall be no ascending scale of public expenditures; but, whenever and wherever [illegible] disclose the possibility of cutting off a dollar it shall be done."

That narrow isthmus which, according to [illegible], once filled with such wondering [illegible] "Cortez and his men, silent upon a peak in Darien," attracts each day more and more the practical rather than poetic attention of capitalists and railroad men. Nature's own short highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, it is one day [illegible] to be ringed and [illegible] without [illegible]. We spoke the other day, says the New York Times, of three new projects of the one sort and two of the other already under way. Now comes the news that Costa Rica, not willing to be left behind Nicaragua, New Granada, Honduras and other Central American States, is to build a railroad across the isthmus from Limon to the Pacific Ocean. This morning's news tells us that foreign bankers and engineers have [illegible] supplied the loan and the plan, and success is not doubtful. All this only warns us to push forward our own isthmian projects.

THE WEST

Several pack trains are [illegible] Coeur d'Alene Mission and Cedar C[illegible] being loaded with flour and merchandise from the [illegible] Columbia.

The business men of Helena, Montana have all agreed to close their business places on Sundays. Other towns in the Territory will follow the example.

There is a mine of petrified mud-turtles on the East Gallatin river in Montana. Many of them look just like living amphibians. There are tons of them, from terrapin proportions to six inches in diameter.

Lewiston (Idaho) merchants are talking of contributing means to re-open the Lo-Lo Fork trail, by which they could reach the new mines of Montana in a distance forty miles less than by the Mullan road.

The Germans of San Francisco complain that in certain schools of that city the German language is taught incorrectly by teachers who pronounce so miserably as to excite the derision of their Teutonic pupils.

Fifteen miles below Boise City, on Boise river mines have been found which are likely to prove profitable. One of the old miners from B[illegible] Basin recently made a prospect which [illegible] all in that vicinity and proved that in due time good wages can be realized.

From Mr. Barrett Williams who is interested in the mines on Willow Creek the Boise Chronicle learns that a partial clean-up has been made by the company he represents and that a yield of nearly forty eight ounces is the recompense for the work of three men for fifty-four days.

A Montana paper says: "A report has reached us from the Yellowstone that small pox has broken out among the Crow Indians at the Yellowstone Mission in a most virulent form. It would have been well had general vaccination been resorted to when we made the suggestion three or four weeks ago.) We have heard of no deaths yet."

A mountaineer commenting upon the bill to suppress polygamy, says: "I have [illegible] the Cullom bill and probably it was conscientiously drawn up but it is a loose bill. It kills a mouse with a mountain. It is a bad precedent and will work disorder in the Territories, retard the speedy extinction of polygamy and be a help to the domination of Brigham Young. We have driven the Mormons from Kirtland to Nauvoo, from Nauvoo to Missouri and Iowa and thence to Deseret. Every time we have lengthened by our [illegible] the life and power of that superstition [illegible] real and [illegible] die.

The Umatilla Reservation

[illegible] March Senator Corbett offered the following [illegible] resolution in the Senate instructing [illegible] to negotiate with the Indians [illegible] Umatilla reservation:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That the President of the United States is hereby requested to negotiate with the Indians upon the Umatilla reservation [illegible] with the view of ascertaining upon what terms said Indians will relinquish to the United States all their claim or right to said reservation and remove to some other reservation in said State or Washington Territory, or take lands in severalty in quantities not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each on their present reservation and to report to Congress, and to defray the expense of such negotiation, the sum of two thousand dollars are hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated or so much thereof as may be necessary

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 18, 18

The Coming Democratic Convention

It is pretty evident that the Democratic slate is made up for Grover for Governor and Slater for Congress. This programme, if carried out, will probably necessitate the nomination of Chadwick or some other man from the South for Secretary of State. It is whispered however that Al Zieber of Portland may appear as candidate for Secretary, and if he goes after it in earnest he may become quite too formidable to please his competitors. The Multnomah delegation will stick to him if he wants them, for though they are instructed for Chapman for Governor, and though it is hardly probable that two candidates from Portland will be placed on the State ticket, yet there is no intention of nominating Chapman and this vote thrown once or twice in his behalf, will mollify him and leave Zieber a better chance to come in afterwards, if he wants to. The shrewd politicians of the party are merely "playing Chapman," just as he has been trying to "play" the workingmen. If he should happen to secure the nomination not a few of them would be chopfallen.

What kind of platform is to be constructed at Albany next week? Can the party get together shreds and pieces enough from the rubbish of old platforms to patch up something that will serve for this occasion? It is not to be expected that it will present anything new. The same old shoddy which it has been jobbing in for years is all its stock in trade now. No doubt we shall have the usual phrases about Radical tyranny, our imperilled liberties, the Fifteenth Amendment, and that haunting ghost of Democracy, the terrible Chinaman. Also, if the Convention dares to give utterance to the sentiments of three-fourths of the Democrats of Oregon, it will pronounce unqualifiedly for repudiation of the national debt. This is about all the people of Oregon have any right to expect in the platform, unless, indeed, the Democrats of Oregon decide to place the party here on the platform occupied by its representatives at Washington, by opposing all land grants and the policy of Government aid for internal improvements.

As the Democratic party has never failed to foretell and predict exactly what has not come to pass, we may expect in its coming platform many doleful prognostications of calamities that are certain to fall upon the country if the "Radicals" are not routed. The sturdy, stolid Democracy will be appealed to in raucous notes to strike for their liberties and to rescue the country from despots. The party that predicted that the slaveholders' rebellion could never be put down, that warned us that emancipation would be the death-knell of the Union, that foretold dreadful evils unless the Republicans were driven from power, that prophesied that universal suffrage at the South would inaugurate a war of races, that solemnly protested that the national debt could never be paid, that assured the country that the election of Grant would be the establishment of a military despotism,—the party that has made all these predictions and croaked in our ears all these direful presagings, will no doubt come out as strong with prophecy as ever, and assure the people that if Republican rule is to continue the country is doomed.

Editorial Notes.

Col. Chapman has published a challenge to T. W. Davenport of Marion county to meet him in Salem, on Monday to discuss certain points connected with the doings of the last Legislature. If Tim. sees fit to respond we promise he will make it so lively for the Colonel that the latter will be in a very sorry frame of mind to attend the Democratic Convention.

One by one the various steps taken in reconstruction are being declared constitutional by the Supreme Court. A day or two since the telegraph announced that it had been decided by the Supreme Court that the courts established by President Lincoln in Louisiana and elsewhere were legal tribunals. The [illegible] legality of the whole policy of reconstruction has been substantially affirmed in various decisions by the highest tribunal of the land.

It is stated that the Democrats of Oregon have made an arrangement with Henry Clay Dean, the Ben Hayden of Iowa, to visit this State and make speeches in every county during the coming campaign. We like this. It just suits us. Dean has long been a resident of Iowa and has taken a leading part among the Democrats in politics there, and the Republican majority in that State has kept steadily growing till it now amounts to 46,359 votes. How many of these thousands Dean has been instrumental in helping the Republicans to count, probably, be estimated with accuracy, but certainly he has done his full share. By all means let him come to Oregon.

Just before the recent election in New Hampshire the New York Herald published an article stating that the campaign in that State had become very interesting, and that, practically, Gen. Grant was before the people of New Hampshire. "Both parties," said the Herald, "regard the result of the opening election in New Hampshire, though purely local, as something that will probably foreshadow the general drift of this year's elections, which are to determine—in the House of Representatives, at least—the dominant party in the next Congress." The Republicans, it will be remembered, had a handsome majority over all the other tickets combined.

Not satisfied with the experience of past reverses the Herald goes on with its exclamations against the Fifteenth Amendment. It characterizes the bill to enforce it as "a fresh scheme of the tyrants," thus pressing into service once more one of the stock phrases used by its party continually for about a dozen years. The people, O cotemporary, are not troubled by any fear of losing their liberties, and no amount of Democratic fustian can persuade them that there is the smallest danger, or that the appeals which are made to them to "defend their liberties against the aggressions of Radical tyrants" are anything more than the clap-trap of a party which is very hard up for political capital.

There was something very like an "unpleasantness" at the Democratic precinct meeting at Eugene City the other day. A "red-hot" Democrat, one of that class who takes down the pabulum furnished by the Portland Herald and Eugene Guard offered a resolution declaring in favor of a sweeping repudiation of the national debt. Some of the more cautious of the brethren were afraid of such a resolution and mildly protested against it. The mover of the resolve answered with great vehemence that Democracy meant repudiation or nothing, and in severe language denounced those Democrats who were afraid to avow their real sentiments. The result [illegible] was finally [illegible] in [illegible] present [illegible].

We [illegible] protest [illegible] the increase of the salaries of city officers at this time. Such increase in our judgment is not demanded either by equity or good policy. When the City Auditor was elected to his present position a few months ago he knew what the salary was, and his acceptance of the position was in the nature of an agreement with the people that he would perform the duties of the office for the salary then paid. Why has that official been [illegible] to [illegible] this officer above the salary that he agreed to accept? A proposition is made to increase similarly the salaries of nearly all the officers of the city, and we find persons who but a little while ago were extremely anxious to get the places they hold, and who would spend money to get them again, now persistently urging an increase of their salaries on the ground that they cannot afford to perform the services required for the pay received. If they will just step out of office we will engage that other persons equally capable can be had for the money! We speak plainly about this matter because we think an increase of salaries under present circumstances entirely indefensible. This is not a party question and so far has not been acted upon in the Council as such, but it concerns alike all classes of citizens, few of whom want to see these salaries so increased as to make the city offices a great prize to quarrel over, and still fewer of whom care to pay unnecessary taxes.

Unparalleled Profligacy

Whoever has observed the course of proceedings in the California Legislature, since it came to be a Democratic body, must be utterly amazed at the number of money claims which have been trumped up by private parties against the State, he must be still more amazed at the success with which such claimants have met, and astounded at the unparalleled profligacy with which the Democratic majority has voted money out of the treasury, into the pockets of their Democratic partisans, without the shadow of justification or excuse.

The latest job of this kind which the Democratic majority has undertaken, is to reimburse John Nugent for losses sustained by him in conducting the old Herald newspaper at and subsequent to the time of the Vigilance Committee of 1855-6. At that time, moved by the natural Democratic instinct, he defended the scoundrels whose villainies culminated in the assassination of Jas. King of William, and denounced the Vigilance Committee. The business result of this was that the people took their patronage from his paper, the Herald, and gave it to others, and the Herald died of impecuniosity. Nugent, now, on no better foundation than this, calls on his Democratic brethren in the Legislature to use their treasury scoop awhile for the benefit of his money-sack—to reimburse him for his losses in business. His request is likely to be granted, too. It is before the Legislature, and has received the recommendation of every member of the San Francisco delegation which, it is unnecessary to state, is entirely Democratic. These men who are now so wasteful of the people's money were elected on pledges to practice the severest economy. Their official profligacy exemplifies the perfidy of Democracy in general, and is a fair warning to the people of this State not to entrust their affairs to a similar ring of Democratic treasury-plunderers.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The confirmation of Gen Salomon as Governor of Washington Territory, lets out Flanders, one of the principal leaders of the bolters in the Territory. The removal of Flanders closes out the list. No one was ever kicked out of office who deserved it more. His pilgrimage to Washington availed him little. President Grant has made a few bad appointments, but he has a happy faculty of discovering his mistakes and correcting them.

J. W. Jasper Johnson has traveled till, at last, he has found a constituency. Having got a "start" from Yamhill—on account of impecuniosity—the whilom militia Col. has been of late traveling southward, into the border counties of Southern Oregon, on a mission. Jasper's ambition has been to defeat the XVth Amendment, and to this end he has lent the weight of his six-inch-hat intellect, not only through the columns of the now deceased Courier, but, of late upon the stump in our counties of Coos and Curry. Jasper has now, as the fruits of this weary pilgrimage, a vote to cast where Jasper will be proud to vote. By the unsought (?) suffrages of not less than six or seven Democrats upon whom Jasper poured his Websterian eloquence, in mass meeting, upon two occasions—at Port Orford and Ellensburg—he is now clothed with the power to sit and vote in the Democratic State Convention at Albany. Jasper's fortunes are evidently waxing. Alas, now, for the XVth Amendment!

There was an amusing episode in Col. Chapman's speech at Oregon City this week. The Colonel was as usual very severe on the Chinaman, and in order to show his audience what the country was coming to he pulled out and read a copy of the document, recently published, by which our friend, Judge McCoy, was constituted agent and attorney for the Chinese companies. This ordinary and perfectly legitimate business arrangement the Colonel denounced as a terrible outrage and enormity. In the midst of the speaker's flow of indignant eloquence, Major Magoone, an intermeddling Black Republican, arose and begged to be allowed to ask a question. The request was granted. "Colonel," said the interrogator, "will you be good enough to inform the audience what Judge McCoy's politics are?" Here was a fix. The Colonel stammered, looked blank, felt for his pocket handkerchief, and stammered again "Y-e-s, I will answer that question—that is to say I will state,—at least I understand, that he is as likely to go for one party as the other!" The awkward efforts of the Colonel to extricate himself brought down the house, but it is only fair to say that his answer did great injustice to Judge McCoy who is known to be a consistent Democrat, but a Democrat who has too much intelligence, good sense and honest principle to have anything to do with such humbugs as some Democratic office seekers are propagating.

Miners on Dry Creek are doing exceeding well. Williams cleaned up forty two ounces the other day, the result of a three weeks run.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 16

Congressional—Speech of Senator Revels

WASHINGTON, March 16.—At one o'clock the Georgia bill was taken up and the galleries were thronged in anticipation of a speech by Revels. Morton, who was entitled to the floor, yielded in favor of Revels, who proceeded to address the Senate and was listened to with the closest attention. His opening remarks were as follows:

Mr. President: I rise at this particular juncture in the discussion of the Georgia bill with feelings which, perhaps, never before entered into the experience of any member of this body. I rise with misgivings as to the propriety of lifting my voice at this early period of my admission into the Senate. Perhaps it were wiser for me, so inexperienced in the details of senatorial duty, to remain a passive listener to the progress of this debate; but when I remember that my term is short, and that the issues with which the bill is fraught are momentous in their present and future influence upon the well being of my race, I would seem indifferent to the importance of the hour and recreant to the trust imposed if I neglected to lend my voice in behalf of the loyal people of the South. Proceeding he referred to the idea so widely disseminated that antagonism existed in the South between the whites and blacks. As a representative of the latter he begged leave to deny the charge and referred to the conduct of the slaves during the war which they well understood to be for their freedom. When left alone with the wives and children of their masters who were fighting to perpetuate their slavery, they worked for and protected them, waiting patiently the result of the contest and for the freedom for which they longed. He maintained that the past record of his race was an index of their feelings to day, that they bear toward their former masters no revengeful feelings, no hatred, aiming not to elevate themselves by sacrificing a single interest of their white fellow citizens, as claiming only the right which naturally and legally belong to them. He also expressed confidence in the integrity and purpose of Congress and the Republican party in their reconstruction measures, declaring his belief that they were influenced solely by a patriotic desire to serve the whole country. He eulogized the conduct of the negro soldiers. He then reviewed the history of affairs in Georgia and argued against Bingham's amendment, and in favor of the bill as it originally came from the Reconstruction Committee. Upon the conclusion of his speech, he received the congratulations of many Republican Senators and others, and then the audience in the galleries, which included many colored people slowly dispersed.

Mr Morton congratulated Revels, expressing the opinion that in the exchange of Revels for Jeff Davis, the Senate had lost nothing in intelligence, while it gained much in patriotism and loyalty. He proceeded to say that the government of Georgia should be provisional, and should so continue until actually represented in Congress. He opposed Bingham's amendment as a violation of justice and American rights.

Mr Howard took the floor, but yielded to the motion to go into Executive session, which was agreed to and the Senate soon after adjourned.

In the House, Burr offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Navy for information relative to the Oneida disaster; adopted.

Beck reiterated his statement, and brought the figures to prove that the expenditures for the current year would be near four hundred million dollars.

The Deficiency bill was then taken up and passed.

Washington News in General

NEW YORK, March 16.—A special correspondent says a matter of very unusual character was brought to the attention of Congress through correspondence between Secretary Cox and some members of the House and Senate. It appears that some weeks ago the Senate called on the Secretary of the Interior for certain papers relating to Indian matters, and that they were subsequently ordered printed, but instead of this order being carried out, they were taken to the room of the Committee on Indian Affairs and there arranged. A large part were left out entirely and important portions of others left out. When the documents were presented, a member of the House, familiar with the case, wrote to Secretary Cox complaining that the papers had been garbled, and that many had been suppressed entirely. The Secretary had the matter investigated and found that all the papers had been sent from the Interior Department to the Senate. This led to the facts given above.

CHICAGO, March 16.—The Tribune's Washington special says business in Congress, as compared with previous years, is well advanced, and the judgment of Speaker Blaine is that an adjournment can be had early in June.

The rejection of the San Domingo treaty by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations created great surprise, which was increased when the character of the vote, 5 to 2, was announced. It is regarded hardly possible that under the circumstances the measure can be carried in the Senate where a two-thirds vote is necessary.

CHICAGO, March 16.—The Tribune's special says in reference to the Leland-Wilkes affray, that the whipping was done with a cane and Wilkes not seriously hurt. A duel is talked of by the friends of both parties.

A delegation of colored men from Tennessee called on the President and asked him to interfere with matters in that State, and give his influence to a movement to set aside the present State government. They received little encouragement.

Another Delayed Steamer.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Much anxiety is now felt for the steamer Samaria, six days over due. She has an unusually large number of passengers. The Captain of the Cunard steamer sailing tomorrow has instructions to keep a sharp look out for the Samaria.

The City of Boston Safe.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The steamer City of Boston arrived at Queenstown at 1 o'clock A. M. No particulars.

JACKSON, Miss., March 16.—Gov. Alcorn offers $1 000 reward for the apprehension of Yerger.

BY THE CABLES

LONDON, March 15.—In the House of Lords Earl Granville explained that the disturbances in Galway, Ireland, demanded the presence of troops, and since their arrival quiet is restored.

In the House of Commons Sir John Packington said it was reported that the steamship City of Boston left America loaded twenty inches deeper than the Underwriters allowed. He gave notice that he should ask the Government to inform the House if there was any truth in the report.

A telegram from Hong Kong chronicles another collision with a steamer of the Peninsula line, which, on Sunday, ran down and sunk the German ship Carrie Jane off Japan. No particulars.

Owing to the threatening aspect of affairs in Ireland arrangements are making to strengthen garrisons throughout the island. The Times, discussing new repressive measures proposed by Government in relation to the island, fears they will prove little more than monuments of good intention. Even if enforced they will not secure the desired object. It calls for harsher measures to check at once outlawry, which threatens life and property.

DUBLIN, March 15.—Disorder prevails in the county of Tuam. Incendiarism is one of its features. Large bodies of troops have been sent to the locality of Galway to stop it.

PARIS, March 15.—Forty members signed a demand to the President of the Ecumenical Council that the order of deliberation be changed and that the scheme relating to infallibility be immediately discussed. Events at Rome are daily becoming graver. It is reported that the Marquis Don Villa, French Ambassador, left to day for Paris and that the Ambassador of Austria at Rome has received from his Government directions to sustain the demands of Count Daru for the admission of the French representatives to the Council.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—St. Patrick's day has been enthusiastically celebrated here. A high mass was celebrated in the Pavilion at 9 A. M. At the conclusion a collection was taken up for the benefit of the San Rafael Orphan Asylum, which must have amounted to a large sum. The line of march was then formed, but in consequence of the rain during the morning it was delayed beyond the published hour. On many streets and on private houses, there was a liberal display of flags and streamers. Thousands of men, women and children lined the streets along which it was to pass. Balconies and even roofs of houses were generally appropriated. Every where the utmost good cheer prevailed. While about 16 000 people were congregated at the Pavilion an immense throng passed the streets which surrounded. The universal prevalence of good order in the procession and among the people on the streets was noted. The police had little to do except to keep the crowd back at certain points. Several grand balls to-night wind up the day in this city.

From Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, March 17.—The Irishmen are enthusiastically celebrating St. Patrick's Day. A large procession with the Irish and American flags paraded the streets headed by music. There was High Mass in the church. The St. Patrick's Society and friends had a sumptuous repast at [illegible] Hall at 1 o'clock.

Large numbers have left here this morning for the reported new silver mines near San Bernardino. There is nothing reliable from there.

Shooting Affray

SUTTER CREEK, Cal., March 17.—A shooting affray occurred in the town of Amador last evening between Joseph Leach and Thomas Leach, relations. The latter was killed. The affray was about a woman, the wife of Joe Leach.

NEVADA

Great Snow Storm at Truckee

TRUCKEE, March 1[illegible].—It commenced snowing at this place between three and four this forenoon, and has continued snowing up to this time without abating, still snowing hard. About twenty inches has fallen up to this time.

The people of Umpqua valley are circulating and generally signing a petition to Congress praying for an appropriation of $75 000 for the improvement of the Umpqua river.

An obituary notice of Mrs Gustavus Hines lately deceased of Salem says she was the first white woman who ever lived on the present site of Salem, Mr Hines having settled there in 1840.

Salem items from the Statesman: The Wigwam has been sold to Mr. J. L. Starkey. A cave in the bank of the road above Oregon City delayed the stage, on Wednesday. John Williams, just out of the penitentiary, was arrested on Wednesday again, on charge of stealing.

The school fund of Douglas county to be apportioned this year is $5,659 63, of which $3,144 84 is coin, and $2,514 79 greenbacks, an increase of $1,313 89 over the fund of last year. The Ensign says: "This increase is mainly owing to greater promptness and diligence on the part of the Treasurer in collecting interest on the outstanding notes of the school fund."

The Democratic County Convention of Clackamas county met on Wednesday, and put in nomination the following ticket: Representatives, Hiram Straight, A. Carmichael, C. F. Beatie; Sheriff, John Myers; Clerk, T. J. McCarver; County Judge, R. Caufield; Treasurer, H. Saffarans; Commissioners, R. Warsham, —— Martin; County Assessor, S. P. Gilliland; Surveyor, R. Caufield, Jr.; Coroner, Dr. H. Ross; School Superintendent, Jos. Hedges.

In regard to the navigation of the Umpqua river the Ensign says: Intelligence from Gardiner reports the safe arrival of the Swan at that place, on Wednesday. No serious casualties occurred on the downward trip, which, but for several delays, would have been easily made in one day. It is reported that Captain Haun will shortly examine the river between this place and Canyonville [up the river] to ascertain how far it is possible to navigate the river with profit.

DIED:

In Butteville, Marion county, Oregon, March 13, 1870, Mr. Stephen Clark, aged 60 years, 11 months and 14 days.

Mr Clark was born in Hartford, Conn., March 27, A. D. 1809. He was married in Orleans county N. Y., in May 1830 and in 1835 moved to Illinois and resided there until the year 1853, when he immigrated to Oregon, and took up his residence in Butteville, where he spent the principal portion of his time. He was well known among old Oregonians, and will be missed by not a few. He died very suddenly of heart disease, thus forcibly reminding us that in the midst of life we are in death. J. W. S.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 18, 1870.

CITY.

THE BELLIGERENT BLONDES.—The short skirted brigade who kicked up such a muss in Chicago not long since, by their Wabash Avenue exploits, in which two of the frail Miss Lidia Thompson's troupe, backed by bullies, attempted to cowhide an editor, have been advertised for Portland, Oregon, but the advertisement was something after the sort of performances the troupe give—dis graceful. It seems that a rather good looking young man made his appearance in Sacramento, and very freely announced himself as Mr. Thompson, the business agent of the Troupe, then as he stated, en route to California from the East, and his business was to procure the Metropolitan Theater for them to play in, and to provide first class hotel accommodations for the whole company. He [illegible] about heavily, and played trumps all the time. Finally he concluded that he could not "arrange" satisfactorily for the entire troupe in Sacramento, so he visited San Francisco, where he planted successfully for a good time at the Lick House. Here he reported that as he could not obtain the San Francisco Metropolitan or the [illegible] Metropolitan he had sent an acceptance to an offer which they had received by telegraph from Portland Oregon, but that they would return at the conclusion of Hermann's engagement and take the Metropolitan, when he should want rooms en suite and single for forty-three persons and a carriage for Miss Thompson's private use during her stay. Madame Rumor says that mine host, of the Lick House, bit heavily and the result was that the young sharp has been eating roast turkey over and stretching his lower limbs under the Lick House mahogany from that time until a few days since, when, at his request, Johnson ordered some fifteen extra carriages to be at the wharf and receive the expected guests upon the arrival of the steamship then due from Portland. This done Thompson made himself scarce, and has given the Lick a wide berth. It is needless to remark that the troupe was all this time in Chicago. Where this agent will turn up next is hard to tell. He is short of stature, has a very boyish [illegible], and a foreign accent. While in California he appeared to be on very intimate terms with the Davenport Brothers.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—The weather proved to be very favorable, yesterday, for the ceremonies [illegible] by the Irish citizens. At the appointed hour the Emmet Guard and the several [illegible] at their respective Halls, and proceeded to the steamer Julia, preceded by the Mechanic's Band. The attendance was quite large, [illegible] favorable weather—and although the streets and public thoroughfares were wet [illegible] the surroundings on board the [illegible] of a pleasant nature, and all participants enjoyed the ride to Vancouver very much. There was not such a crowd but that all were [illegible] and upon landing the change was [illegible] the sun shone brilliantly and the exercises [illegible] corresponding degree light [illegible]. The ceremonies at Vancouver [illegible] interesting, and a friend who was [illegible] that the oration by Rev. P. Mans, [illegible] the occasion. At about 2 o'clock, [illegible] started for Portland, arriving [illegible] o'clock. The procession again [illegible] marching to the Sister's College, [illegible] various halls of the Societies [illegible] in the celebration, breaking [illegible]. In the evening a grand dress [illegible] Guard Armory closed the [illegible].

[illegible] MEETING.—The Congressional Temperance Society, of Portland, met at 7½ o'clock Wednesday evening, in the Taylor [street] M. E. Church. In the absence of Judge [illegible], the President, Hon. J. Quinn Thornton, [illegible] the Chair, and called the [illegible]. The proceedings were opened [illegible] a portion of scripture, and with prayer by Rev. William Roberts. Mr. Stitzel, [illegible] absent, the minutes of the [illegible] were then read by Mr. Garrison, [illegible] Judge Thornton then introduced [illegible] John A. Veatch, who delivered a [illegible] the subject of "Intemperance Viewed [illegible] Standpoint," with suggestions as [illegible]. The lecture was very [illegible], and was listened to with marked attention. [illegible] Mr. Depler [illegible] requested to address [illegible] responded in an eloquent and stirring [illegible] minutes. Quite a number [illegible] members after which the [illegible].

[illegible] One of those scandalous sheets made [illegible] New York city, and to be found on the [illegible] news-dealer in the land; [illegible] this is not; gave a hefty account [illegible] scene in Portland, Oregon. [illegible] man of loose habits, in this com[illegible] name of Joseph Snodgrass, was [illegible] wife of a saloon keeper named Car[illegible] recount the disgusting spectacle [illegible] only mention it for the purpose of saying that there is not the least shadow of truth in [illegible]. No such event ever transpired [illegible] is perhaps as near the truth as the [illegible] of such trash, which is only dished up to [illegible] tastes.

[illegible] BENDER.—About 8 o'clock last [illegible] in the language of Gr[illegible] [illegible] on Washington street. As [illegible] it became apparent to outsiders that they [illegible] preparing for a hot old time. [illegible] they had an opportunity to throw off [illegible] they were marched up to jail, and [illegible] terminated in nothing more than a [illegible] which Recorder Anderson will [illegible] for the parties to-day at the [illegible] Police Court levee.

[illegible] DOMICILED.—We found a [illegible] last evening, which informed us [illegible] of the firm of Stitzel & Upton, [illegible] business trip to Clackamas county, where he went the day previous with a [illegible] gentleman, and to whom he sold a large farm, nine miles east of Oregon City. We [illegible] to the new advertisement of Messrs. [illegible] Upton this morning. It will be seen [illegible] offer for sale several thousand acres of [illegible] lands and city property.

[illegible] REPEATED.—Col. Pardee has consented [illegible] deliver his lecture—"Pen Sketches of the War," for the benefit of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city, and it gives us [illegible] assurance that this evening, at Oro Fino Hall, the lecture will be delivered. Terms will be the same as for any lecture of the course, but tickets for the course will not admit on this [illegible] as it is an extra lecture.

BELOW PAR. One of our unimpeachable citizens has received a proposition from J. P. Waters & Co., 197 Broadway, N. Y., another of those swindling concerns which hive about New York, [illegible] to sell him counterfeit greenbacks at $200 per $1,000. It is the old game, and is decidedly played out in Oregon. The intelligence of the [illegible] here renders all such propositions emphatically below par.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.—March 17, 1870.—J. C. Cartwright admitted to the bar.

John Van Horton vs O. S. N. Co.; order setting cause for trial to-day vacated.

U. S. vs. J. C. Gilbreth, et al.; argument closed and the case submitted to the jury, which returned a verdict of not guilty, after an absence of about twenty minutes.

BUILT TOO STEEP.—After looking at the many leaky basements along our business streets, and witnessing the damages done to goods in some of them, [illegible] then viewing the clean roof of the Lutheran Church, we must admit that the latter is built too steep; but would recommend a greater incline to all future roofs which are to be covered with tin.

NEW MACHINERY.—In addition to fifteen cases of new machinery received in Oregon by the Ajax for the Wallamet Woolen Mills Company, [illegible] that the Tualatin River Navigation and Manufacturing Company and Messrs. Parker & Robinson, of Corvallis, received new machinery [illegible] works.

FISHING UP FLOUR.—Messrs. Savier & Co. have received advices that their loss of Imperial flour, by the Golden City, is a gain to parties on the lower coast, who are employed in fishing it up. In all sacks that can be got out without being torn, the flour will be found good.

A FINE APPEARANCE.—Without wishing to give preference to any one of the Societies or Orders appearing in the procession yesterday, we must say that it is very seldom that a finer body of men appear together in public, than the Emmet Guard of this city.

PLEASANT AFFAIR. The first annual grand ball given last evening at Philharmonic Hall, for the benefit of the Congregation Ahabai Shalome, was very well attended, and the festivities were very pleasantly enjoyed.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE

We clip the following items of intelligence from the last number of the Pacific Churchman

The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church will hold a "Delegate meeting" in San Francisco, in the first week of May, with the opening service on Sunday evening, May 1st. The two Secretaries, Drs. Twing and Denison will be in attendance, and Bishop Odenheimer of New Jersey. The Delegates proper will be Dr. A. H. Vinton, of Boston, who will preach the opening sermon, Dr. H. C. Potter, of Grace Church, New York; Dr Leeds, of Baltimore, and Dr. E. A. Washburne, of New York. Three of the Missionary Bishops are expected: Clarkson, Whittaker and Morris, and perhaps Randall, of Colorado, and Tuttle, of Montana and Utah. This will be the first meeting of the kind ever held on the Pacific coast, and an occasion of great interest to all the members of the Episcopal Church.

Bishop Morris, with the aid of the citizens of Eugene, has purchased the place known as the Cornelius property, consisting of four acres of ground, dwelling house and school house, adjoining Eugene City, and the Rev. D. M. Manus, M. A., has opened there "St. John's High School," under the supervision of the Bishop of Oregon and Washington. Mr. M. Manus proposes to instruct a limited number of pupils in all the departments of an English and Classical education. The first term of four months commenced February 1st, at the close of which the conditions of the second term will be announced.

From $60 upwards, all tastes and circumstances suited in the purchase of a GROVER & BAKER Sewing Machine. WM. CURRIER & CO., Agents.

RAILROAD MATTERS are very likely to be lively this spring. The East Side Company will engage a large force of men to complete their road to Albany, and the West Side Company will, very probably, build a portion of their road in order to obtain a land grant to facilitate the building of their line to McMinnville. Kohn & Fishel are keeping up with railroad times. Their stock of spring goods coming across the continent by rail will be the largest and finest stock of Clothing ever imported to this State. Their stock in store now is offered very low to make room for large arrivals. They are manufacturing the neatest Boys' Suits and always have on hand a large stock of the same which are offered at lowest figures.

The Infirmities of Age.

Decrepitude is the natural accompaniment of old age, but it may be ameliorated, and the period of entire helplessness long postponed by the judicious use of a healthful stimulant. Physicians, fully aware of this fact usually recommend moderate stimulation when the strength and vigor of maturity have been superseded by the feebleness and prostration which are the inevitable results of declining years. Port wine, gin, brandy and other liquors are often prescribed by medical men for aged persons, but the impulse which fermented and distilled liquors give to the circulation, and the energy they seem to impart is transitory, unless the alcoholic principle is modified and qualified by the presence of the medicinal tonics and invigorants. Of all the combinations of diffusive stimuli with the juices of herbs, roots and barks that have ever been administered to the aged and infirm, with the view of sustaining their waning strength, cheering their drooping spirits and relieving the aches and pains to which they are subjected, none has been found so efficacious, so agreeable and so permanent in its effects as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The difference between the effect of the Bitters and that of a mere excitant however pure, is the same as between the effect of a sudden and momentary application of excessive force to a given purpose, and the result of a steady, continuous application of exactly the requisite amount of force to the same end. The mere spirit of physical energy produced by a dram (and which is always succeeded by corresponding depression) never yet benefitted any man or woman suffering from physical decay. A cordial like Hostetter's Bitters, at once soothing and invigorating, is the remedial agent required.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Retrenchment!

THE NUMBER OF GROCERY STORES IN PORTland is about sixty, with an average of three men to each, and about twenty of them run delivery wagons, making a total of one hundred and eighty men and twenty teams constantly employed to wait upon eight thousand people. Estimate the labor per man at three dollars per day, in one year it would amount to $197,100, and the rents, keeping of horses, taxes, licenses, etc., at three dollars per day for each store and you have $65,700 more, making a total of $262,800 annually, for expenses alone. This is why the grocerymen must make their twenty per cent or shut up shop

Now we can supply the city with groceries with a force of twenty men and four delivery wagons, at an expense not exceeding $25,000 thereby saving $237,800 in expenses alone, which would enable us to sell goods at five per cent profit instead of twenty, and make money $237,800 divided among 8,000 people, would give $42 85 to every man, woman and child, which they could actually save by centralizing on [illegible]

H. T. HELMBOLD'S
CONCENTRATED
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.
The Great Diuretic.

THE PROPRIETOR TRUSTS THAT HIS MEDIcines, from the fact of their being advertised, may not be classed as patent medicines

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

is a pharmaceutical preparation. The proper name is given and it is the most active which can be made. It is endorsed as a cure by all medical works for such diseases as recommended by the proprietor. It is pleasant in its taste and odor, free from all injurious properties and is taken by adults and children. It is tonic, diuretic, blood purifying and invigorating. Enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes will find it far more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron

See medical properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy

BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic, its taste is bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, chronic catarrh of the bladder, morbid irritation of the bladder and urethra, disease of the prostate gland, and retention or the incontinence of urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in dyspepsia, chronic rheumatism, cutaneous affections and dropsy

TESTIMONY.

Cure of Gravel of Five Years' Standing—Stone Passed and to be Seen

SAVANNAH, Tenn., May 14, 1869.

DR. H. T. HELMBOLD—Dear Sir: We introduced your "Fluid Extract Buchu" in this country about eight months ago, and are happy to state that it is meeting with universal favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A man in our county, named J. B. Estell, had been suffering about five years with gravel. About six weeks ago he bought of us one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he was through with one bottle he passed a gravel that weighs eight grains, which we now have on exhibition in our drug store. He says that he will never be without the "Buchu" in his house again. Your preparations are gaining favor every day

Very respectfully yours, &c.,
ECCLES & HINKLE, Druggists.

Cure of Bladder and Kidney Affection of Long Standing—Stone Passed and to be Seen

WESTPORT, Conn., Sept. 5, 1869.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Esq. Dear Sir—I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the bladder and kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But yesterday relief came through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and I now feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours, truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

Cure of Kidney and Bladder Affection of a Patient Seventy eight Years of Age.
THANKS TO MR. HELMBOLD.

GIRARD, Pa., March 31, 1869.

Editor Cosmopolite: I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of Helmbold's Buchu, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder disease, from which I have suffered [illegible] for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using, with little faith and no apparent beneficial results, for about a month. At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief which encouraged me to persevere in its use; and now at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm old man, nearly seventy eight years of age, and consequently medicines cannot be expected to favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact as an acknowledgment to him and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,

A Permanent Cure of Gravel of Twelve Years' Standing—Stone Passed to be Seen.

[illegible], Conn., Dec. 14, 1868.

DR. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir: It is with much pleasure that I write you upon [illegible] feeling myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the past ten years the greatest sufferer man could be and live; but more so, some times than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and "Bladder." I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours, and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors, both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say by the quart, also tried medicines, but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so bad that I could scarcely get about. I could not rest night or day. It would soon have been "all up" with me, if I had not seen your advertisement in the Berkshire Courier, headed "Kidneys." I read it through, and thought I would try it. I purchased a bottle, but, mind you, had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been [illegible]. Well, I began taking it and before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I had finished it and got another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse (apparently. When I walked it seemed as if my right kidney was falling from its place, and I felt really bad. I felt so, before I had finished the second, that I had made up my mind it was of no use trying any more—and all this time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it, so I gave it up, and went to Hartford on Saturday to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to undergo an operation. He gave me medicine, and I went home quite downhearted. On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken any of his medicine, but on my return continued using the "Buchu," and in the afternoon I had a desire to make water, but could not. About one hour after I tried again, with the same result, but the next time I took the vessel it was the same as turning a faucet and stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and the third time there was something came through the passage and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. It looks the color of cotton thistle and was hard as a flint. So you see the Buchu was doing its work although I was feeling so badly. I procured another bottle thinking there might be some more behind, but since that has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday, I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have the stone securely wrapped and those who have seen the stone in this place are surprised. I cannot tell you all, but this is a true story of my case and you are welcome to make such use of my name as you think proper. I am pretty well known in Berkshire also in Connecticut. The advertisement saved me. Why not publish more? The Springfield Republican is a wide spread paper. If any one wishes to see this stone let them call. I could write all day, but think I have said enough this time, so I remain your ever well wisher EDWARD L. HOWARD,

The History of Black Friday

From the N Y Times

The story of the combination which attempted to force gold to 160 premium last September cannot be told in a brief space The Congressional Committee which was appointed to inquire into the circumstances took evidence enough to fill one entire copy of this journal We have endeavored to lay all the substantive facts before our readers without an unreasonable demand upon their time and patience and the report of the Committee itself will complete the history of a transaction destined to be long remembered in commercial annals

What is the general conclusion to be drawn from the narrative we are enabled to present to-day? That, happily may be stated within a very small compass In the first place it is quite clear that there never was the smallest excuse for the shameful slanders circulated by an unprincipled clique upon President Grant. It is impossible to forget what was said just after the panic In certain quarters the President was openly accused of having taken an active part in the gold speculations A letter was forged in the name of his wife, and published as proof of the President's complicity in the plot We denounced it as a forgery at the time but the professional concoctors of scandal are not afraid of the truth—they instantly flew to their dirty work again ' The President's real offense—the cause which prompted these attacks—was twofold he had always tried to do his duty to his country faithfully and he had refused offices to certain persons whom he deemed unworthy to hold them There fore his character was maligned, and even his wife was not permitted to go unscathed What home, indeed, what man's character what woman's, is safe in these days? The license of journalism is not always bounded by considerations of justice or propriety, it spares nobody, young or old and is even made the foundation of a sort of terrorism, which honest men ought either to resist or treat with contempt. The President adopted the latter course He let the calumniators go on unreproved so far as he was concerned The investigation just concluded was made solely on public grounds—not in defense of the President. Incidentally, however, it does vindicate him, and let us add, since the subject has been so much discussed, it was proved that Mrs Grant never wrote any such letter as that which was attributed to her It must be painful to her assailants to see the prey they had marked down rescued from their clutches But they will soon find another victim, and it costs them nothing to produce a fresh series of fabrications

Who, then, were the real authors of a panic which sent gold to a higher point than it was ever likely to reach again? Where the suggestion first came from is still open to question. This we know—General Butterfield speculated in gold, so did Mr. Corbin. Both tried to get information which would be useful to them in their operations. As for Mr. Corbin, he appeared to be too much broken down to tell us very much about the affair. He is weak, old, nervous and unhappy—such, at least, is his own account of himself. He does not seem to have been the sort of man at any time to have had much influence on the President, who is cast in a totally different mould Side by side with Mr Corbin two other figures take up a prominent position in the foreground We should be glad to avoid mentioning their names, especially as one of them, at least, is of a peculiarly diffident disposition We are compelled, however, to record that the famous Mr. James Fisk, Jr., and Mr Jay Gould had a good deal to do with the events of the 24th Sept [illegible]

Mr. Fisk's genial version of the affair we published on a former occasion He is a candid historian, and seems even to have found time to [illegible] the issues at some period or other of his life Mr Gould, on the other hand, seems to be of a reflective turn, and is, apparently, a man who takes his very pleasures sadly. We get a vivid insight into the characters of both men in an account given by Mr. Corbin of the events which happened immediately after the panic. Some of our readers will remember that on Friday night the great question was, "Where is Fisk?" People hunted for him high and low, and some vowed that their intentions toward him were not of the most friendly disposition. The supplementary Stock Exchange in Fifth-avenue was crowded with excited persons who longed to see Mr. Fisk in the flesh But he was in one of his modest fits at that moment. Perhaps he had gone, to use his own poetical metaphor, "where the woodbine twineth." He had been seen to leave "the street" in congenial society. After that he vanished into space Mr Corbin now lifts the veil from the mystery It seems that on that memorable evening there was a [illegible] meeting. Fisk called out for vengeance on Bu[illegible]field, and then threatened poor nervous Mr. Corbin until the latter actually promised to go to Washington and see what he could do with the President! The unfortunate dupe came back as he went—a dupe with dupes; for there can be little doubt that Fisk really believed that Corbin possessed strong power with the Government In this instance his sagacity was at fault, and he will be ashamed of that exposure Some other points in his character he can bear to have criticised; but for any one to say [illegible] his tenderest feelings. Yet what are we to think of a [illegible] whom even Mr Corbin was able to impose upon?

Mr. Gould is not gifted with the fortitude of his associate Some one asked after him on the night of the panic. "He sunk right down," said Fisk; "there is nothing left of him but a heap of clothes and a pair of eyes " The crisis was, in truth, rather alarming, and Mr. Fisk himself might have been pardoned if he had broken down under it. But there he stood, dancing and fiddling amid the ruins Mr. Gould told the Committee that he was [illegible] He also said "I have never kept a book in my life." We need not commend this practice to the notice of commercial firms in general. Mr Gould did, however, see the President once or twice, and tried to get information from him which would pay better than keeping books. Mr Corbin seems to have helped him—like the lady's maid in [illegible] who admits the aspiring lover by the back door. Mr. Gould's memory, like Mr. Corbin's, is none of the best, and consequently he tells us very little, and takes up a great deal of space to tell that little in

The whole story comes to this Mr. Boutwell undoubtedly acted, as he believed, in the interest of the public. Messrs Fisk and Gould thought they were going to make a fortune by sending up the price of gold and they believed that Mr Corbin would further their schemes They also tried to get Gen Butterfield on their side, and it must be owned that he does not come out of the affair with perfectly clean hands Fisk and his associates did not find the plot work well, but Mr Gould modestly declined to say how much they made out of it on the whole Finally the President, and one or two other who were scandalously traduced at the time, are shown to have acted throughout with the highest integrity. The report of the Committee will probably bring that fact out very clearly The investigation will thus prevent a wicked slander from passing into history, and we may be glad on that account to [illegible] Mr Fisk and all his dear friends we must leave to the judgment of the public

THE HORSE THAT SHERIDAN RODE.—The Port Huron (Mich) Times contains the following.

Among the heroes that Port Huron sent to the war was Archibald P Campbell, who went from this city as Captain of Company K in the Second Michigan Cavalry, and succeeded Phil Sheridan in the Coloneley of that famous regiment, though we believe the eagle on his shoulder straps was displaced before his death by the General's star While in camp at Grand Rapids, Captain Campbell wrote to his friend, E J Inslee of this city requesting him to purchase a horse that was large well formed and capable of great endurance Inslee, one day in our streets, happened upon such an animal the property of a man living back of Lakeport in this county and after a careful examination and thorough test purchased him for $175 Inslee describes to us the animal destined to be so famous in history, as a large well-made horse sixteen or sixteen and a half hands high of powerful frame, very dark brown, or what some would call black color and four years of age He was shipped to Campbell at Grand Rapids, who received his purchase with great satisfaction He rode him during the earliest years of the war and [illegible] appearance with the [illegible] he received He became a favorite in the regiment and was indeed a noble [illegible] Gen Sheridan often expressed a wish to buy him of his friend Campbell who however refused to sell him Afterwards he presented him to Gen [illegible] [illegible] we are unable to state as Campbell's [illegible] at Franklin [illegible] other at [illegible] in the winter [illegible] The first time Sheridan rode him in an engagement was at the battle of Boonville where the [illegible] was all that could be desired From that time he became his favorite horse until the ride from Winchester which gave both steed and rider names that will live in [illegible] history

A MAN ACTUALLY SENTENCED TO BE HUNG IN NEW YORK.—The New York [illegible] of Feb 24th says

Reynolds has been [illegible] the 6th day of April So far justice has been done but as a cotemporary too justly reminds us, Real was also sentenced to death and no one has ever believed the sentence would be carried out The conviction of Reynolds does not prove that we are about entering upon a new era in the administration of justice for he possessed none of that political influence which is potent to save criminals from the punishment they have provoked The Tribune detects some circumstances in the case which confirm it, in its opinion, that capital punishment ought to be abolished Yet it can scarcely have overlooked the fact that hanging was the only penalty that the miscreant Reynolds really dreaded This is shown by the anxious inquiries he put to all as to chances of saving his neck He is only mad nor nor west ' Tell him that he would get off with imprisonment up river, and the mask of stupidity which he habitually wears would at once fall off Death being the most terrible retribution for crime—and consequently it affords a safeguard which society cannot afford to throw away

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND March 17 1870

Gold quotations to day at New York 112⅛ no material change since the 15th The efforts of the bulls to put the price up again seem to have been ineffectual after gold reached 113½ on the 11th since which date the price has been steadily in the neighborhood of 112

Legal tenders are quotable at 89c

The local money market presents no new feature except that interior debtors are making strenuous efforts to settle existing bills, which relieves somewhat the pressure among our wholesale dealers. The banks have supplies beyond current business demands upon them Short loans at bank carry the usual interest—1 per cent, outside rates 1½@2 per cent

In the merchandise market, we have to note a perceptible improvement. The prospect which existed a week since, that the decline of gold would necessitate an advance in prices of staple goods, had the effect to hasten upon the market numerous customers who otherwise would have deferred purchasing for some time and business is, therefore livelier than had been anticipated.

We observe a comparatively marked activity in dry goods Since gold has apparently found a resting place, higher than which, it is believed, it will not go permanently dealers have become more assured, and, though prices of all staples are emphatically stiff there is a disposition to work off stocks at the old quotations rather than to check the opening spring trade by an advance The wisdom of his decision will be seen when prices in New York shall follow the downward course of gold, as they naturally must

Hardware feels the general impulse and is beginning to come out of the stagnation in which it has been so long plunged There are to-day a number of buyers on the market, who are laying in liberal stocks against the possible contingency of an advance in prices Our hardware dealers have followed the policy of holding on to the latest possible moment, against such an advance, as it would seem they are about to be rewarded with a moderately brisk opening of spring trade

Groceries being more in the nature of indispensable commodities have not at any time been so dull as most other goods, but we observe to-day more than the usual activity Dealers are generally satisfied with what they are doing and especially with their future prospects.

The Produce market remains in general dull and it is impossible at this time to see any prospect for an improvement in the export trade Flour and grain at San Francisco remain at the figures quoted for several weeks past, and there seems to be no present or prospective unwonted demand in any direction. We have no changes to note in our usual quotations Wheat—good white is sought after, and is firm at quotations In provisions there is little change. Bacon—only moderate inquiry; prices quiet Lard—very firm and in good demand at quotations. Shoulders—scarce and wanted Butter—the market is still overstocked and sales limited and difficult. Dried apples—no sale, quotations nominal

The receipts of produce for the week ending to day were Apples 1,465 bxs, Bacon 307cs; Barley 886 sks, Butter 16 kegs; Eggs 149 bxs, Flour 15,663 qr sks, Oats 992 sks; Wheat 3,584 bags Hams 71 cs Lard 39 cs, Woolens 23 bales, Dried Apples 55 bbls, Salmon 16 bbls; Beef 16 bbls, Linseed Oil 45 bbls; Feed 154 sks Furs 4 bales Leather 3 rolls Bacon 110 sks

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation they sandwander until death closes the scene Let parents guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that them immediately [illegible] and cured before it be too late Send [illegible] Dr Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretender doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse.
